OFF-SEASON BARGAINS

NUMBER 5

Off-Season Bargains

It is always good housekeeping to buy "coal in summer" and "refrigerators in winter," so why not apply this same economical principle to the purchase of plants?

July is the month in which we are glad and willing to do business on a "break-even" basis. Besides that, we can do it with less cost than during the spring or fall rush.

Study this list of "Off-Season Bargains," and bear in mind that every plant furnished is guaranteed to be of the same high grade and quality as though you were paying rush-season prices. Every plant is guaranteed to be at least field-grown size, true to name, and to reach you in satisfactory condition. All you need do to benefit by these reduced prices is to order new. is to order now.

These prices are for July orders only. Shipment will be made during proper season, on dates you desire.

Prices are F.O.B. our station or post office.

Peony, Marguerite Gerard

Peony, Marguerite Gerard

This is just about the most rapidly increasing, the most dependable, and the freest-blooming good Peony in existence. Blooms are pale hydrangea-pink, changing to creamy white, with central petals minutely flecked dark carmine. It resembles the famous variety Solange in color when opening indoors, after cutting. Strong-growing, of medium height, and late midseason bloom. Fragrance strong, resembling wild-cherry blossoms. The real joy of Peonics is to have plenty of them for house, friends, institutions, and the garden. Plant ten or a hundred Marguerite Gerard this fall and possess a Peony of increasing value and beauty for the rest of your life. These prices apply to strong, top-grade, 3 to 6-eye divisions. 1,000 for $150; 100 for $18; 50 for $10; 25 for $6; 10 for $2.50; 5 for $1.50; 3 for $1; 1 for 50 cts.

Tree Peony, Moutan

Tree Peony, Moutan

Most varieties of Tree Peonies arc, as yet, comparatively scarce and may remain so for another five years. In the meantime, every garden should have, and can afford, Moutan, the Wild Tree Peony of Thibet. This is the most vigorous growing and the freest blooming of all Tree Peonies. Blooms are single, red in color, 6 to 8 inches in diameter, borne 70 on a five- to six-year-old plant, and hundreds thereafter; 3 to 5 blooms on a two-year-old plant. Use as a dwarf shrub, as it seldom attains a height and spread of more than 6 to 8 feet, and, if necessary, can be easily kept to 2 to 3 feet by trimming each year immediately after the bloom season, cutting out the old canes and leaving the newer sprouts for next year's bloom. Plant deeply in any average soil or location, between August 20 and December 1, or March 1 to April 15. A rare opportunity to possess a Tree Peony and Peony bloom two weeks before the regular Peony season. Blooming-size, two-year-old plants at $2 each if ordered before August 1.

Hemerocallis, Golconda and Ophir

These are the best two varieties of Hemerocallis (Day Lilies) produced by Mr. Farr. Ophir has recently been granted a Certificate of Award by the Royal Horticultural Society, following tests at Wisley Fields, England. Ophir is darker yellow. Golconda is taller. Both bear giant blooms of good substance, on strong stems. Catalog price, 60 cts. each. July price, 4 for $1.25; 10 for $2.50; 25 for $5. Not less than four plants sold, and not less than two of a kind.

Astilbe chinensis

The Astilbes, with their graceful, fluffy plumes of bloom, are invaluable for a cut-flower display, and help you to avoid a dull July garden. Its blooms are silvery pink, on tall stems, which lend themselves to massed tall stems, which lend themselves to massed naturalizing or use as accent specimens. Takes the place of baby's breath and other "trimmers" for summer cut-flower bouquets. Prefers part shade and moisture, but the 2,000 plants in our Nursery are casily grown and do well in a dry and sunny location. Catalog price, 50 cts. each. July price, 4 for $1; 10 for $2; 25 for $4; 100 for $15. Not less than four plants sold.

Chrysanthemum arcticum

One of the very few Chrysanthemums which have never winter-killed for us. Withstands any and all average conditions, and needs no winter protection after the first year. Low, neat, compact, and attractive rosettes of foliage from spring to fall, and in October a profusion of smiling white daisies, with yellow centers. One of the very few low fall bloomers, and invaluable for rockery and border. 4 plants for $1; 10 for $2; 25 for $4. Not less than four sold.

Gaillardia

The Blanket Flower, of maroon and gold, provides a constant and trouble-free supply of cut-flowers from June to fall. Its everblooming quality is possessed by very few perennials. July price, 5 plants for $1; 12 for $2; 25 for $3.75. Not less than five

Lily-of-the-Valley

For ground-cover under trees and other shady spots where grass fails, and for general use and interest, this old favorite is unexcelled. It has recently been scarce and high priced, but our new crop permits this most timely offer. Catalog price, 40 cts. per clump. July price, 5 for $1; 12 for $2; 25 for $3.75. Not less than five sold.

White Phlox

White bloom in the garden emphasizes the greenness of lawn and foliage and the vividness of other bloom-colors. It lends an atmosphere of coolness and charm, like white ships on a blue sea, or a white house with green shutters. Stately heads of white Phlox will add such contrast, charm, and coolness to the parched summer garden. Our July price is 8 plants for $1; 20 for $2. Not less than eight plants sold.

Assorted Japanese Irises

These "Butterflies on Sticks" are another bulwark against otherwise dull and scarce July bloom. Their ideal location is moist subsoil with good drainage for the crowns, but they thrive and bloom in our dry and dusty nursery rows. Mulch protection for the first winter is recommended on fall plantings north of Philadelphia; after that it is thoroughly hardy. Our present assortment was grown from seeds furnished us by an eastern estate, famous for its collection of Japanese Irises. It is guaranteed to include very few duplicates and the most unusual and striking types. July price, 5 for $1; 12 for $2; 25 for $3.75. Not less than five sold.

Poppies at Popping Prices

Catalog prices are 40 to 50 cts. each, but the first surplus in ten years permits the following July prices on the usual field-grown and top-grade plants:

Five or more of one kind at 20 cts. each; 10 or more of one kind at 16 cts. each; 25 or more of one kind at 12 cts. each. Not less than 5 plants of a kind sold.

Edna Perry. Large, soft salmon-pink flowers. Royal Scarlet. Brilliant scarlet, with black blotches.

Tree Peonies at Half-Price

Irises for Reduced Incomes

We find business pretty much as usual if we are able to reduce prices in proportion to the general reduction of incomes. Wherever supply warrants, we are glad to apply heavy reductions, if only to keep the organization employed. Note that all varieties are choice and of high rating by the American Iris Society.

CONDITIONS

1. Total Iris orders from this offer must amount to at least $2.

2. Orders will be booked in sequence received, while the supply lasts.

3. Five per cent discount for cash with order. No new charge accounts opened for less than $10.

4. Shipment during July or early August on dates you specify. Parcel Post extra.
